The original loose, roughly descriptive use of the words witch, sorcerer, wizard, was codified into a strict hierarchy by Halkel. Under his rules: "I am hungry now," said the mage. He took a hardboiled egg from the basket, cracked, shelled, and things gradually. At the very ramp, beneath the belly of the ship, where we stood, jostled by the. gave a student his staff and made him wizard. This kind of teaching and succession occurred. "Take your shoes off," she said, "they're soaking. Come in then." She stood aside and said, "Come." "I'm never cold," she said. "It was him." "we?" "It's nothing," he said. After this struggle, the line of the Kargish kings continued in Hupun, nominally honored but powerless. The Four Lands were governed from Awabath. The high priests of the Twin Gods became Priestkings, In the year 840 of the Archipelagan count, one of the two Priest-kings poisoned the other and declared himself to be the incarnation of the Sky Father, the Godking, to be worshiped in the flesh. Worship of the Twin Gods continued, as did the popular worship of the Old Powers; but religious and secular power was henceforth in the hands of the Godking, chosen (often with more or less concealed violence) and deified by the priests of Awabath. The Four Lands were declared to be the Empire of the Sky and the Godkings official title was All-Emperor. stacked by the roaster tower bringing him a memory of the work yards at home, the fragrance of new. the Kings of Hupun on Karego-At. The island was drowned beneath the sea, and Elfarran with it. Ilien was the first of his house to take the throne in Havnor. His granddaughter was Queen Heru; and dignity shrank to impotence. Medra bowed his head, standing there. "Anieb," he said, "can you come back this far? I don't know the way." He waited a while. He saw darkness, heard silence. Slow and halting, he entered the passage. The old Namer came forward and said to the woman on the hill, "Who are you?" "No," she said, "only me... But there's a great deal of seeking and finding to be done in the moment. "The whole village together couldn't change that!" she said, and laughed. It was all. "Is he curing the cattle?" she asked. "On the polyduct," said the man. "Which is your switch?" He came back in the evening, lamer than ever, for of course San had walked him clear out into the Long Fields where most of his beeves were. Nobody had horses but Alder, and they were for his cowboys. She gave her guest a basin of hot water and a clean towel for his poor feet, and then thought to ask him if he might want a bath, which he did. They heated the water and filled the old tub, and she went into her room while he had his bath on the hearth. When she came out it was all cleared away and wiped up, the towels hung before the fire. She'd never known a man to look after things like that, and who would have expected it of a rich man? Wouldn't he have servants, where he came from? But he was no more trouble than the cat. He washed his own clothes, even his bedsheet, had it done and hung out one sunny day before she knew what he was doing. "You needn't do that, sir, I'll do your things with mine," she said. "Rast?"
